2

Boul

utilizing said image sensor device to sense a second image, in rapid succession to said first image; applying colour correction to said second image based on the determined colour characteristics of said first image; and printing out said second image by said printhead.